EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Siller on 11/6/2007.

Amendment to the Specification:

Please insert page 9 between page 8 and page 10.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3, 6-9 and 12-14 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

Claims 1-3, 6-9 and 12-14 are allowed since there is no prior art of record that teaches or suggests a liquid crystal display module comprising a relationship of various elements as claimed with the specific allowable subject matter cited in the following claim:

Claim 1:

- a light guide panel through which the light from the light source propagates, the light guide panel having a first refractive index
- a low refractive index layer disposed on the light guide panel, the low refractive index layer having a second refractive index which is lower than the first refractive index

Art Unit: 2871

- a transmissive liquid crystal display panel disposed on an upper portion of the lower refractive layer
- optical sheets disposed on the low refractive index layer
- a polarizer disposed on the optical sheets
- wherein the transmissive liquid crystal display panel includes an upper substrate facing the lower refractive index layer with liquid crystal therebetween, and no substrate disposed between the liquid crystal and the light guide panel

Claims 2,3, 6-9 and 12-14 are allowed since they depend on allowed claim 1.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Umemoto et al (US 2003/0043315) discloses a liquid crystal display device comprising a light guide plate used as a lower substrate; and a polarizer disposed under the light guide plate.

Kawakami (US 2003/0218701) discloses an electro optical device comprising a light guide plate used as a lower substrate; a lower refractive index layer formed on the light guide plate; and a polarizer formed opposite the lower refractive index layer respective to the light guide plate.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance".

[0034] The transmissive liquid crystal display panel may include a lower substrate disposed on the polarizer and an upper substrate facing the lower substrate with liquid crystal therebetween to selectively transmit the light through the liquid crystal by driving the liquid crystal or an upper substrate facing the polarizer with liquid crystal therebetween to selectively transmit the light through the liquid crystal by driving the liquid crystal and no substrate disposed between the liquid crystal and the light guide panel.

[0035] The liquid crystal display module may further comprise a light source housing reflecting the light generated by the light source towards the light guide plate and a condenser disposed between the light source and the light guide panel, the condenser condensing the light generated by the light source and the light reflected by the light source housing into a smaller range of angles emitted into the light guide panel.

[0036] The critical angle may be defined by:  $90^\circ - \text{condensed degree by the condenser} > \sin^{-1}(a \text{ refractive index of the reflecting means} / a \text{ refractive index of the light guide panel})$ .
